45th Annual Meeting | Oct 18-20, 2023

Graduate Hotel, Cincinnati, Ohio

Call for Proposals

Proposal Deadline: 11:59 PM EDT on May 31, 2023

Our Venue

The 2023 Annual Meeting of the Mid-Western Educational Research Association (MWERA) will be held at the beautiful Graduate Hotel formerly the Kingsgate Conference Center in Cincinnati, Ohio. This is our fifth year at this scenic, stylish well-situated location. The hotel will provide us with spacious and well-equipped meeting facilities and plenty of common spaces for networking with fellow MWERA members. Additionally, the conference center is a short walk to the Cincinnati Zoo and about ten minutes to downtown, so a short bus or Uber ride away from the Ohio River, National Underground Freedom Center, Over-the-Rhine, Cincinnati Museum Center at Union Terminal, and the Banks.

This year we invite all scholars, professionals, students, practitioners, and administrators —to join us in a friendly and collegial atmosphere as we connect around the issues and problems that are important to us as educational professionals. There will be opportunities to learn, reflect, make new connections, and renew old acquaintances. Prepare to be energized by attending MWERA!

Conference Theme

Come present and learn with MWERA this year! We have an exciting program of workshops, invited speakers, and peer-reviewed scholarly works presented in a variety of session formats. This year's program theme is:

Supporting Teachers through Educational Research

At the heart of the work of education broadly defined are our K-12 teachers who come through programs in higher education in order to learn how to help children lead meaningful lives. Teacher education programs are experiencing declining enrollment and K-12 schools across the United States are reporting an increase in vacant positions, with schools experiencing high poverty disproportionately affected. In part, this is due to the conditions made more visible by the pandemic: a teaching force that is and has been historically underpaid and undervalued. At the center of this undervaluing are issues of gender in a predominantly female profession. Alongside the pandemic, there has been a reawakening of activism around systemic race-based violence as a result of the murder of George Floyd. As such, Boards of Education have also become sites for a political battle over the teaching of Critical Race Theory in schools, interpreted as anything diversity-related, with teachers caught in the crossfire as they attempt to do what is best for their increasingly diverse population of students. As educational researchers, what is our role in understanding and changing educational systems in support of teachers? How can our work be part of the solution of recruiting and sustaining a more diverse pool of teacher candidates? We welcome presentations that include the dissemination of educational research through new forms of engagement in public spaces such as editorials, speeches, government testimonies, social media commentary, blog posts, podcasts, videos, wikis, etc.

Call for Proposals

Proposal Deadline: 11:59 PM EDT on May 31, 2023

To better meet the needs of a diverse body of educational stakeholders, educational researchers must choose activities that position research to inform civic participation, engagement, and organized action. Moreover, we may need to go beyond our characteristic publication possibilities so that what we learn is disseminated in a way that may be accessed by those inside and outside of our traditional paradigms. Of particular interest to the conference theme, we seek proposals that address the most immediate advocacy needs:

- The current experience of teachers and the current state of schools since the pandemic
- Educational policy at the national, state, and local level
- Public scholarship on the topic of diversity, equity, and Critical Race Theory in schools
- Recruitment and retention of students and teachers of color
- Comparative international teacher education
- Impacts of the teacher shortage, particularly on schools experiencing high poverty
- Technology for more equitable programming
- Teacher and administrator professional development

How might we more effectively engage in and utilize educational research that addresses the necessity of advocacy? How might we better negotiate our traditional paradigms for the creation and dissemination of research? How might we begin to collaborate with diverse and unique educational stakeholders? How might we more strategically and holistically disseminate findings? Please join us at the 2023 MWERA Conference in Cincinnati, Ohio, to explore these issues and more!

General Information

The 2023 Annual Meeting of the Midwestern Educational Research Association will be held October 18-20, 2023. We invite K-12 educators, higher educators, researchers, administrators, policymakers, and others involved in the enterprise of education to submit proposals for presentation at the meeting.

The proposal submission deadline is 11:59 PM, EDT on May 1, 2023. Whether or not you are planning to submit a proposal to present, please consider attending to enhance your professional development by attending sessions and/or becoming more involved with the MWERA organization leadership or the MWER journal. We welcome participation from all sectors of education.

Attendance at the Annual Meeting

The 2023 Conference Program will consist primarily of presentations selected through a blind peer-review process. All proposals including panels and research-in-progress papers are selected through the peer-reviewed process of MWERA. In addition, there will be invited speakers and symposia; panel discussions; special sessions for graduate students, new faculty, and new members; as well as the Friday keynote luncheon and other social events open to all attendees.

All sessions listed in the Conference Program will be open to anyone who has registered for the Annual Meeting; however, enrollment may be limited for some workshop sessions. Business meetings are intended for all members. Tickets for the Friday luncheon and speaker are available to all pre-registrants, but ticket availability is not guaranteed for late or on-site registrants. *Both membership and registration are required for attendees and presenters.

Call for Proposals

Proposal Deadline: 11:59 PM EDT on May 31, 2023

Membership and Conference Registration materials for the 2023 Annual Meeting will soon be available on the MWERA website (<http://www.mwera.org/>) and specific questions can be addressed to specific division chairs (contact information on the following pages) or the Program Chair at mweraconference@gmail.com.

Ways to Participate

Presenter: Any education professional may submit a proposal for the 2023 MWERA Annual Meeting, whether or not that person is currently a member of MWERA. However, before the Annual Meeting, all presenters MUST be members in good standing with MWERA (that is, non-members must join MWERA as soon as they are notified that their proposal was accepted). To promote broader participation in the program, no one person should appear as a presenter on more than three proposals.

Attendee: You can participate simply by attending the conference and/or encouraging your colleagues and students to participate in any way (please share this Call for Proposals with others). All forms of participation are necessary to ensure a successful Annual Meeting. Please plan to attend as many sessions as possible at the conference. Not only will you learn a lot about educational research, but you also will be providing a service to your colleagues by asking questions and offering expert feedback. All persons attending the 2023 Annual Meeting are expected to be members in good standing and to pre-register for the full meeting.

Reviewers, Session Chairs, and Session Discussants: Division Chairs are seeking MWERA members to serve as Proposal Reviewers and Session Chairs/Discussants. Please volunteer on the conference website. If you have specific questions, contact a Division Chair or the Program Chair. All persons participating at the 2023 Annual Meeting are expected to be members in good standing and to pre-register for the full meeting.

Questions about proposals, the electronic submission process, or the meeting, in general, should be directed to Division Chairs or to the Program Chair: Lauren Angelone, MWERA—2023 Program Chair, Xavier University, Email: mweraconference@gmail.com.

Guidelines for Submitting a Proposal

While it is desirable for proposals to address the theme of the Annual Meeting, it is not required. Proposals MUST be submitted electronically, using the submission process available through the Meeting website (proposals may NOT be mailed or emailed to the Program Chair or to Division Chairs). Specific instructions for submission can be found at the MWERA website:

<http://www.mwera.org>

Deadline for Proposal Submission

All proposals must be submitted no later than 11:59 PM EDT on May 31, 2023. All proposals that are submitted by this deadline are guaranteed to be reviewed. Submissions will then be forwarded to Division Chairs, who will coordinate a number of volunteers in a system of blind review of proposals (i.e., proposals should be submitted without author identification). Please inform your Division Chairs (contact info can be found at the end of this call) if you plan to submit more than one proposal to a division.

Criteria for Proposal Review

Appropriate criteria, depending on the format and type of scholarly work being presented, have been developed and are used for the blind review process. These criteria include:

- A. Topic (originality, choice of problem, importance);

- C. Contribution to research and education;
- D. Framework (theoretical/conceptual/practical rationale, literature review, grounding);
- E. Analyses and interpretations (significance, implications, relationship of conclusions to findings, generalizability, or usefulness); and

Papers presented at MWERA are expected to be original scholarship conducted by the author(s) that has not previously been presented at any other meeting or published in any journal.

Further, it is a violation of MWERA policy to promote commercially available products or services (except as exhibits) that go beyond the limits of appropriate scholarly or scientific communication. Individuals who wish to display educationally-related products or services should contact the Program Chair at mweraconference@gmail.com.

Expectations of Presenters

All persons, including graduate students, presenting and participating at the 2023 Annual Meeting are expected to be members in good standing and to pre-register for the full meeting. Papers not uploaded to the website by this date may be dropped from the program. Presenters are also expected to attend sessions in order to demonstrate good-faith collegiality and professional courtesy. While adding to your CV is important, learning from your colleagues and offering feedback benefits all conference participants.

LCD projectors and screens will be provided by MWERA in presentation rooms. Presenters needing an additional computer or audio-visual equipment must make their own arrangements for such equipment (rental from the hotel may be possible at the presenter's own expense). Please remember to bring the appropriate adapter/dongle for your computer.

MWERA reserves the right to reproduce and distribute summaries and abstracts of all accepted proposals, including making such works available in a printed Program Abstract, through the MWERA website, and in press releases promoting the Annual Meeting and the organization. As a condition of acceptance, all authors of papers accepted to the 2023 Annual Meeting explicitly grant MWERA the right to reproduce their work's summary and/or abstract in these ways. Such limited distribution does not preclude any subsequent publication of the work by the author(s).

Authors of accepted proposals assume the ethical and professional responsibility to appear at the Annual Meeting and to participate in their presentation or assigned session. When circumstances preclude the author(s) from doing so, it is the

Session Descriptors and Format Descriptions

Session Descriptors

When submitting, you'll be asked to choose an MWERA division (Division A through Division L) that best aligns with your proposal. These division descriptors can be viewed in the "Membership" link on the mwera.org site.

<https://www.mwera.org/membership.html>

Paper Presentation

Paper sessions are intended to allow presenters the opportunity to make short, relatively formal presentations in which they summarize their papers to an audience. Three to five individual papers dealing with related topics are grouped into a single session running 1 hour 10 minutes. Each paper presentation is allowed approximately 15 minutes (depending on the number of presentations in a given session) to present the highlights of the paper. In addition, a Session Discussant is allowed approximately 10-15 minutes, following all papers, for comments, synthesis, and/or constructive feedback. A Session Chair moderates the entire session. Presenters are expected to provide complete copies of their papers to all interested audience members.

Poster

Poster sessions are intended to provide opportunities for interested individuals to participate in a dialogue with both the presenter(s) and other interested individuals. Presenters are provided an area in which to display a Poster (digital or paper posters are acceptable), ancillary handouts, or other table-top A/V materials. Digital posters must be displayed on the presenter's own laptop. Interested individuals are free to move into and out of these poster presentations as they wish.

Research in Progress

Research in Progress affords individual researchers, particularly graduate students and early-career scholars, the opportunity to submit evidence-based works that are not fully realized and/or completed but have enough progression and fidelity to warrant dissemination and discussion among peers. For example, Research in Progress papers will be arranged to provide graduate students and/or new scholars with an opportunity to receive comments on their research in progress for feedback to enhance its potential for publication or presentation at a professional conference.

Symposium/ Panel presentation

A symposium/panel is intended to provide an opportunity for the examination of specific problems or topics from a variety of perspectives. Organizers are expected to chair, identify the topic or issue, and locate the individual speakers who will participate in the session, prepare any necessary materials, and facilitate the session. It is suggested, though not required, that the speakers or the organizer will provide interested individuals with one (or more) papers relevant to, reflective of, or drawn from the symposium.

Workshop

Workshops are intended to provide an extended period of time during which the workshop leader helps participants develop or improve their ability to perform some process (e.g., how to provide clinical supervision, using the latest Apps, or conduct an advanced statistical analysis). Organizers may request from 1½ to 3 hours and are responsible for providing all necessary materials for participants. Most workshops are scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, although others may be scheduled throughout the conference.

Alternative Session

The form, topics, and format of alternative sessions are limited only by the imagination and creativity of the organizer. These options are intended to afford the most effective method or approach to disseminating scholarly work of a variety of types. Proposals for alternative sessions must include a brief rationale for the alternative being proposed and will be evaluated on their appropriateness to the topic and audience, their ability to meet the limitations of time, space, and expense for MWERA, and the basic quality or value of the topic. The organizer of alternative sessions is responsible for all major participants or speakers, developing and providing any necessary materials, and chairing the session.

Best Practices Forum

The “Best Practices” sessions provide opportunities for individuals or groups to present “best” or “promising” practices impacting both K-12 and higher education. These sessions highlight unique and innovative programs that have demonstrated promise for improving and enhancing educational practice. Presenters will be grouped by similar topics to facilitate discussion among the groups and audience. Presenters are expected to make available copies of handouts on which the “Best Practices” session focused.

Content Required for Proposals

The following guidelines are required for proposals. If you have questions or concerns, please contact your Division Chair or the Program Chair.

Abstracts: Paper, Posters, & Other Sessions

The abstract should be 100-150 words. The abstracts of accepted papers will be published in the MWERA 2023 Annual Meeting Abstracts publication and may be available on the MWERA website. Use clear, precise language, which can be understood by readers outside your discipline. The abstract MUST be followed by a summary.

Summaries: Paper, Posters, & Other Sessions

Generally, summaries for ALL proposals should be approximately 2500 words. Summaries for Paper and Poster proposals should explicitly address as many of the following as appropriate, preferably in this order: (a) objectives, goals, or purposes; (b) perspectives and/or theoretical framework; (c) methods and/or techniques (data source, instruments, procedures); (d) results and conclusions; and (e) educational and/or scientific importance of the work. Research in progress should explicitly address as many of the following as appropriate, preferably in this order: (a) objectives, goals, or purposes; (b) perspectives and/or theoretical framework; (c) methods and/or techniques (data source, instruments, procedures); (d) educational and/or scientific importance of the work. NOTE: If you do NOT yet have full results/conclusions for your research, then you must submit a Research in Progress proposal and indicate that your data analysis is in progress.

Summaries for Symposium, Workshop, Alternative Session, and Best Practices Forum proposals should explicitly address as many of the following as appropriate, preferably in this order: (a) descriptive title; (b) objectives, goals, and purposes; (c) importance of the topic, issue, or problem; (d) explanation of the basic format or structure of the session, with a brief rationale for the format; (e) listing of the presenter(s), by number, not name, for blind review (e.g., “Presenter 1”), with an explanation of each person’s relevant background and role in the session; and (f) anticipated audience and kind of audience involvement. Limited program space may be available for these types of sessions.

MWERA Awards

Distinguished Paper Award

Each year the State and Regional Educational Research Association (SRERA) special interest group of American Educational Research Association (AERA) invites its member state and regional affiliates to each present one distinguished paper at the annual spring AERA meeting. These papers are automatically accepted for presentation and do not undergo additional review. MWERA will recognize one overall distinguished paper from its exemplary proposals to submit for presentation at the next AERA Annual Meeting. The award recipient is expected to present the paper at AERA and will receive a $150 stipend to defray the cost of registration.

In order for MWER editors to access work to be considered for the Distinguished Paper, presenters at the annual MWERA conference must upload a final and complete paper to the association's online conference management system by the last day of the MWERA conference. In addition, the author or lead author must be able to present the paper at the AERA conference in order to be eligible for this award. The Distinguished Paper awardee will be notified by mid-January, following the fall conference, of the decision.
