The characteristics of effective professional development for these arts educators are presented	F.0300.P2
Abstract: There is a growing recognition of the importance of effective professional development for educators. Highly effective professional development provides opportunities for teachers to improve their classroom instruction and to develop professional relationships. However, few professional development opportunities are designed with the needs of arts educators in mind. This paper describes a professional development program specifically designed for music and visual arts educators. The characteristics of effective professional development for these arts educators are presented
